"SAVATARD," the Washington correspondent of The Louisville Post, has the faculty of throwing small bricks that make holes big enough to drive a team of oxen through. Here is one of his latest—

"Every man who loves his country ought to read THOMAS B. REED's farewell to its constituents. It is a gem. Here is something for profound reflection:

"Office, as a ribbon to stick in your coat, is worth nobody's consideration. Office as opportunity is worth all consideration."

"The Democracy of Kentucky has ostracized two grand Democrats to whom office was opportunity. CANNIBALS and LINDSEY dignified office. They shied under the Senate. Now Kentucky has set up a ribbon counter, and it is crowded. Every day is a bargain day. There was a time when Kentucky took the foremost road and cut the widest swath in the American Congress—there was a time."

"HENCEFORTH we are to have two kinds of country," says The Philadelphia Record.

To which The Louisville Post replies—

"We have always had two kinds of country. The Northwest Territory was one kind and the states another. In 1787. In 1803, the Louisiana Territory was one kind of country and the states another. In 1848 the territory taken from Mexico was one kind of country and the states another. Since 1867 Alaska has been one kind of country and the states another. Since the return of the Republicans to power, Hawaii has been one kind of country, and the states another. Besides, there are Pennsylvania and New Jersey and New York City, all of which differ from each other as they differ from the remainder of the country."

"Therefore the country is not shocked by the alleged novelty of two kinds of country. Those of us who have cared to investigate the history of the United States find no novelty whatever in the law as laid down by the Supreme Court. Every state admitted to the Union since the adoption of the Constitution has had the doors opened or closed by Congressional action. Laws have been enacted for these thirty-two new states without their consent, save in the case of Kentucky and Vermont, which were never territories. But Kentucky and Vermont did not enter the Union without Congressional action.

"The recent decision merely vindicates the right of Congress to do what Congress has always done.

"We do not doubt the plenary power of Congress representing the people—to deal with our new possessions, but we are just as confident that Congress will deal with these new possessions, wisely, justly, liberally, God is marching on."

A GENTLE HINT.

In our style of climate, with frequent changes of temperature, rain, wind and sunshine often occurring in a single day it is well to have that children, friends and relatives are so frequently taken from us by neglected colds, half the deaths resulting directly from this cause. A bottle of Hecche's German Syrup kept about your house for immediate use will prevent serious sickness, a large doctor's bill, and perhaps death, by the use of three or four doses. For curing Consumption, Hemorrhages, Pneumonia, Severe Coughs, Croup, or any disease of the Throat or Lungs, its success is simply wonderful, as your druggist will tell you. Get a sample bottle from Dr. J. J. Wood, 100, No. 10, Louisville, Ky. Regular size, 75 cts. Get Green's Price Almanac.

The Statistician of the Department of Agriculture estimates the total area planted in cotton at 37,382,000 acres, an increase of 1,111,000 acres, or 3.3 per cent, over the acreage planted last year. The average condition of the growing crop is 81.5. It was 82.5 on June 1 of last year. This is with one exception the lowest June condition in twenty years.

EASILY PROVEN.

There is Not the slightest Reason For Leaving Mayville to Look For Proof.

The experience given below by this well-known Mayville citizen is easily proven. The proof is offered for his convictions can safely be left with the reader. It is a difficult matter to describe an aching back or any of the ills caused by disordered kidneys. How to cure the trouble is of much more importance, and the most exciting resident of Mayville cannot ask for any better authority on this point than that given by Mrs. James Molen of 219 Lee street, who says:

"Our case was greatly troubled with his kidneys, and although he used many remedies, nothing brought lasting relief. We learned about Doan's Kidney Pills, and his father went to J. J. Wood & Son's Drugstore, corner of West Second and Market streets, and got a box for him. Its use proved its great value. We most heartily recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to anyone suffering from kidney ailments."

FIRE AT LEXINGTON.

Twenty-Six Houses Destroyed, Entailing a Loss of About Sixty Thousand Dollars.

Lexington, Ky., June 8.—Twenty-six houses on Georgetown, Short and Todd streets were destroyed by fire Friday. The damage done is estimated at $60,000, with insurance on about half of the property destroyed. J. A. Ochs, cooperage shop; D. D. Sallee's grocery, Perkins' livery stable, the Webster hotel, owned and used as a restaurant by Mrs. Bridget Shannon & H. P. Shepherd, Stephen Jones' and B. O. Vaughn's two-story brick residences were the most valuable buildings.

The others were brick and frame cottages. They were occupied by poor families, who are now in distress. The fire originated at 1:30 o'clock in a Negro cottage on a defective flue. A furious wind was blowing and the fire spread with such rapidity that little household property was saved. Several children were seriously, but not fatally, burned. Joseph's hospital, a large institution, was in line of the fire, and was saved with difficulty. The greater part of two blocks are in ruins. For several hours the entire neighborhood was threatened, and neighboring houses were called upon for aid. The fire was gotten under control at 4 o'clock.

A SECRET MARRIAGE.

The Event Just Revealed By the Settlement of a Kentucky Woman's Estate at Owensboro.

Owensboro, Ky., June 8.—In the circuit court Friday a sensational answer was filed in a suit setting up a marriage between Miss Josie Dryer, of this city, and Max Schneider, in Cincinnati in 1903, that has been kept a secret to this day.

On July 7, 1897, Margaret Dryer died, leaving an estate worth $20,000, and her father, Mr. J. J. Dryer, executor of the estate and trustee for Andrew and Isaac Dryer, two improvident sons.

A few weeks ago Josie as executrix filed a suit to settle the estate, and Friday the two sons filed an answer setting up the secret marriage of their sister in Cincinnati by a magistrate, and because they were Catholics, a subsequent marriage by a priest at Bardonia.

HE RECOVERED.

Lineman Arthur Selser, at Owensboro, Received a 2,200 Volt Shock, But Is Alive.

Owensboro, Ky., June 8.—Although he received 2,200 volts of electricity, physicians say Arthur Selser will recover from the shock. Selser is a lineman for the electric light plant here, and Friday, while mending a break at the power house, his foot contacted with the member of the electric voltage through his body. He had placed a plank edgewise to act as a conductor, and it slipped, throwing him over the wire. He held the wire in his hands and was rendered unconscious.

It is estimated that the wire carried a voltage many times enough to kill, and his case is the most remarkable on record excepting the scientific tests of Tesla.

PAT EXPANSION.

Letter to Secretary Root in Regard to His Amendment as Passed by Congress.

SENT TO THE CUBAN COMMISSION.

United States Will Not Compromise the Independence or Sovereignty of the Island of Cuba.

Measure Was Prepared With the Object of Avoiding Any Possible Idea of Establishing a Protectorate or Suzerainty.

Washington, June 8.—During the conference between Secretary Root and the Cuban commission, the secretary wrote a letter to Senator Platt, of Connecticut who introduced the Platt amendment, asking for his views relative to intervention as mentioned in the third clause of the amendment, which Platt replied, and his letter was furnished the commission confidentially by the secretary of war and was incorporated in and made a part of the acceptance of the Platt amendment by the constitutional convention. The latter, however, appeared in a Havana paper, and was made public by the war department. The text of the letter is as follows:

"I am in receipt of your letter of this date in which you say that the members of the commission of the Cuban constitutional convention fear that the provisions relative to intervention made in the third clause of the amendment, which Platt replied, and his letter was furnished the commission confidentially by the secretary of war and was incorporated in and made a part of the acceptance of the Platt amendment by the constitutional convention. The latter, however, appeared in a Havana paper, and was made public by the war department. The text of the letter is as follows:

"I reply I beg to state that the amendment was carefully prepared with the object of avoiding any possible idea that by the acceptance thereof the constitutional convention would thereby establish a protectorate or suzerainty, or in any manner whatsoever compromise the independence and sovereignty of Cuba, and, speaking for myself, it seems to me that such an interpretation can be given to the clause. I believe that the amendment should be considered as a whole, and it ought to be clear on reading the text well-defined purpose is to secure and safeguard Cuban independence, and set forth at once a clear idea of the friendly disposition of the United States toward the Cuban people, and the express intention on their part to aid them, if necessary, in the maintenance of said independence. These are ideas which I believe, as you say, I may not speak for the entire congress, my belief is that such a purpose was well understood by that body. Very respectfully,
"O. H. PLATT."

The new three cent piece to be issued by the Government has been styled the "doughnut coin" by reason of the fact that the piece is to have a hole in the center. This innovation in the coinage of Uncle Sam's money was deemed necessary from the fact that the new coin is the exact size and of the same material as the present five cent piece.

An Open Letter.

We desire to say that our business since January 1st has passed the mark anticipated. We wish to be frank; therefore we are not attempting to talk to business people and put it in the form of a polished essay. The advantage of having merchandise delivered from your competitors is apparent, provided that the retailer is known to be reliable. Does not a good deal of advertising appear to you as though the advertisers were indulging too freely in fine florid? Most of them seem to say something that means nothing. Names are invented for goods that have no bearing whatever to the materials; turned and twisted until they are no longer relevant, all of which is done to tone the product, because the product hasn't enough of it. Fine feathers make fine birds, but fine words do not make fine goods. We are strong believers in advertising because it is a good thing, but advertising doesn't pay unless constructed on a proper basis, and that is to plainly tell people what you have to sell, and sell it as low as is consistent with legitimate business methods.

Our spring importation of Dress Goods, White Goods, Carpets, Mattings and Housekeeping Goods generally is complete. Come and learn prices, which will be found to be as cheap as the cheapest, quality considered. Respectfully,
GEORGE COX & SON.
